

2nd Annual Conference

Conquering the Overwhelming Task of Creating a BIT at a Community College

Lynn Perkins, Director Enrollment Management and Judicial Affairs

Brad Fleming, RVC Police Sergeant

Litesa Wallace, Counselor

LaShun McGhee, BIT Liason

Rock Valley College

It may seem like an overwhelming task to create and implement a BIT program at a community college. Especially given the lack of resources, staff shortages, open enrollment, and increased mentally ill students on campus. We will discuss how we created a collaborative BIT program to share the workload and address students of concern. We will talk about our successes, and failures, and provide you with a blueprint of our plan, along with our promotional materials used to spread the word on campus.
