

2nd Annual Conference

Five Legal and Practical Issues When Including (or Not Including) Parents in the Process

Brian Van Brunt, Director of Counseling and Testing Services
Western Kentucky University

Carolyn Reinach Wolf
Senior Partner, Abrams Law Firm and Mental Health Educator

This program will address the sticky issue of how to best involve parents (or not involve parents) in mental health treatment, residential life, academic issues, health services and the student conduct process. The presenters will address common mistakes staff and faculty make when they fail to include parents in critical decisions (hospitalization, alcohol and drug violations...) and how they can learn to better manage parents who are upset, emotional, confused and frustrated as they transition to their new role.
