

2nd Annual Conference

The Role of Student Affairs Professionals in Multi-Hazard Emergency Planning for Higher Education

Dee Dee Anderson, Association Vice Chancellor for Student Development

The University of Tennessee at Chattanooga

The presenter will provide a brief overview of the National Incident Management System (NIMS) and its use of the incident command system (ICS) for campus emergency planning. Participants will discuss their role in working with campus emergency and risk management officers in developing emergency operations plans, identifying campus hazards, conducting risk assessments and creating partnerships with stakeholders.
